te aorerekura action plan update 2026/27

national strategy to eliminate family violence and sexual violence

Te Aorerekura is the 25-year National Strategy that sets the framework to address family violence and sexual violence. The Strategy is delivered through Action Plans that guide the government's work with tangata whenua, specialists, and communities.

The Centre for Family Violence and Sexual Violence Prevention has published an Action Plan Update 2026/27.

Delivery of the first two years of Te Aorerekura Action Plan 2025–2030 saw 26 milestones delivered. The Action Plan Update 2026/27 is a bridge between the first two years and final years of delivery, targeting effort towards initiatives that will make the greatest difference for people affected by violence.

The update maintains a strong focus on doing a few things well; strengthens agency accountability; recognises that further work is required across the existing priority areas; and places greater emphasis on sexual violence and workforce capability.

You can find the update here

drop-in reap: emergency housing responsibilities and activities

missed the drop-in or need a refresher? you're in the right place

Responsibilities (for people in EH)

- high level obligations
- set by policy
- the same for everybody

Three areas of responsibility

- engage with support services (if referred),
- make reasonable efforts to find alternative housing,
- access housing assistance, pay the contribution.

Activities

- Specific, agreed actions
- Individualised
- Relevant to the young person's situation
- Achievable within the grant period
- Focused on progress towards sustainable housing

But why do we have responsibilities and activities?

They're designed to

- ✓ Support young people towards sustainable housing
- ✓ Address barriers to housing
- ✓ Encourage engagement with appropriate supports
- ✓ Create meaningful progress during each grant period

They're not designed to

- X Punish young people
- X Create busy work
- X Require activities under every responsibility area
- X Measure effort alone

drop-in reap: emergency housing responsibilities and activities

missed the drop-in or need a refresher? you're in the right place

What makes a good activity?

A good activity should be:

Meaningful – move the young person closer to sustainable housing

Achievable – can reasonably be completed before the next grant application

Relevant – matches the young person's actual circumstances

Clear – the young person understands exactly what they need to do.

Common traps

- Treating activities like a checklist
- Vague activities (eg, improve budgeting, look for housing, engage with support)
- Counting effort instead of progress (eg, apply for 5 properties)
- Activities not in young person's control (eg, wait for appointment with housing broker).
