supporting taiohi to enrol to vote

resources to help you to support taiohi to enrol

Not quite 18 yet? (don't fear)

If taiohi are 17, they can fill out an enrolment form now. On their 18th birthday, they'll automatically be enrolled and be ready to vote!

Make sure taiohi are enrolled by 25 October

For taiohi to vote in this year's general election, they'll need to enrol by 25 October.

Enrolled before? It's a good idea to check if their enrolment details are correct – especially if they've moved.

Enrol or check you are enrolled here:

mental health awareness week

ko au ko koe, ko koe ko au, I am you and you are me

Mental Health Awareness Week is recognised in more than 150 countries worldwide, and the Mental Health Foundation of New Zealand has been running it here in Aotearoa since 1993.

With support from Health New Zealand | Te Whatu Ora, the campaign aims to shine a light on positive mental health and encourage people to adopt simple, everyday actions that boost wellbeing.

Every year has a different theme, this year the theme is Belonging Matters. Belonging is all about feeling connected. It is a fundamental part of our wellbeing and plays an important role in maintaining good mental health.

You may not realise that a neighbour, colleague, friend, or whānau member is feeling disconnected. Small acts of kindness, such as taking time for a kōrero, checking in, or offering to lend a hand, can make a meaningful difference!

drop-in recap: keeping ourselves well to best look after others it is important that you are looking after yourself

Reflect on the everyday habits that help us stay well, manage challenges, and maintain balance both at work and in our personal lives.

Self-care – making time for activities that support our wellbeing. We need good self-care to recover well and respond better to stress.

Physical wellbeing – the importance of sleep, exercise, and healthy routines. Pick something you enjoy!

Emotional wellbeing – exploring strategies such as mindfulness, reflection, and self-compassion.

Healthy workplaces – building positive relationships, communicating effectively, and supporting one another. Make sure you know who your supports are.
